The Education Department at the University of California, Santa Cruz invites applications for an ongoing pool of qualified Supervisors of Teacher Education. Our department has a strong research and instructional focus on the education of diverse student populations and teacher education. The Teacher Education Program offers course work which leads to both a Master of Arts in Education degree and a multiple subjects or single subject preliminary teaching credential. In addition, qualified students also may earn a Bilingual Authorization, emphasis in Spanish. More information on the department and its programs can be found at http://education.ucsc.edu.

Primary responsibilities include supervising student teachers, teaching courses on methods for specific content areas (or instructional methods), and serving on Education Department admissions, planning, and policy committees. Supervisors also are responsible for assisting credential candidates to complete a comprehensive assessment of their instruction based on the California Teaching Performance Expectations.

SALARY: $42,852–$69,864, commensurate with qualifications and experience.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: Applicants must possess a clear California teaching credential with a minimum of five years of recent (within 3 years) public school teaching experience at the K-12 level. Candidates should have demonstrated experience and success in working with culturally and linguistically diverse student populations. Candidates also should be able to demonstrate experience with, and knowledge of, local school districts and surrounding communities. A Master's degree in Education, previous experience supervising student teachers, and/or leadership experiences (e.g., staff development) is highly desirable.

- Math Single Subject Teacher Supervisor: Applicants must possess a clear California single subjects mathematics credential and recent and substantial mathematics teaching experience at the middle, junior high, or high school level.
- Science Single Subject Teacher Supervisor: Applicants must possess a clear California single subjects science credential and recent and substantial science teaching experience at the middle, junior high, or high school level.
- Social Studies Single Subject Teacher Supervisor: Applicants must possess a clear California single subjects social studies credential and a minimum of five years of recent successful social studies teaching experience at the middle, junior high, or high school level.
- English Single Subject Teacher Supervisor: Applicants must possess a clear California single subjects English credential and a minimum of five years of recent successful English teaching experience at the middle, junior high, or high school level.
- Multiple Subject Teacher Supervisor: Applicants must possess a clear California teaching credential (or equivalent) with a minimum of five years of recent successful public school teaching experience at the K-6 level.
- BCLAD Multiple Subject Teacher Supervisor: Applicants must possess a clear California teaching credential and BCLAD certification (or equivalent) in Spanish with a minimum of five years of recent successful public school teaching experience at the K-6 level in a Spanish - English bilingual setting.

POSITION AVAILABLE: As openings occur.

TO APPLY: To be given full consideration, applicants should send an informative letter of application, curriculum vitae or resume, three current letters of recommendation*, a writing sample, and evidence of teaching excellence (a successful teaching record which demonstrates an excellent performance as a classroom teacher and can be verified by colleagues and supervisors) to:

Education Department
Attn: Administrative Coordinator
University of California
