On-Going Lecturer Pool

The Department of Microbiology and Environmental Toxicology at UCSC invites applications for an on-going pool of qualified temporary lecturers. Outstanding candidates with experience teaching in the following specialties within microbiology or toxicology are encouraged to apply: general microbiology, general microbiology lab, environmental toxicology, toxicology, statistics/experimental design, and risk assessment, among others. Teaching assistants may be assigned to assist instructors as needed, and will be supervised by the instructor. Candidates accepted into the pool will be eligible to teach courses during the academic year and in Summer Session.

RANK: Lecturer

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience. Salary is generally in the range of $6,126 to $7,105 per course in the academic year. Compensation for Summer Session courses may vary from this amount.

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. or foreign equivalent in Biology, Biochemistry, Chemistry, Earth Sciences, Microbiology, and/or Toxicology or a related field; or Master's Degree and a minimum of two years of university teaching experience in these same areas.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: We have a preference for candidates with a Ph.D. or foreign equivalent. Demonstrated ability for university teaching.

POSITION AVAILABLE: As openings occur.

TO APPLY: Applications are accepted via the UCSC Academic Recruit online system, and must include a curriculum vitae; contact information for at least three scholars/researchers active in your field who are prepared to write a letter of recommendation; a description of previous courses taught (if available); evaluations of teaching (if available); and sample course material – syllabi, handouts etc. (if available). Documents/materials must be submitted as PDF files.
