UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA CRUZ
CROWN COLLEGE
Ongoing Lecturer Pool Search

Crown College at the University of California, Santa Cruz (UCSC) is developing a pool of qualified instructors to teach and develop its non-core course undergraduate curriculum, especially in the area of ethics and technology. The theme of the College is "Science, Technology, and Society" (see <http://crown.ucsc.edu/index.html>) and most of our classes focus on some aspect of this theme as we explore the relationship of science and technology with the world around us. We approach these issues from an interdisciplinary perspective that recognizes the influence of social and cultural factors on the scientific enterprise, as well as the ways in which science and technology influence our society.

Successful candidates must be able to work with students, faculty, and staff from a wide range of social and cultural backgrounds. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

RANK: Lecturer

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications, experience, and number of course units taught per quarter.

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS: Master's degree; or Bachelor's degree and professional and/or teaching experience of at least five years in the sciences, engineering or social sciences, especially if your experience is related to the connections between society, technology, and ethics.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Teaching experience in the areas of ethics and technology.

POSITION AVAILABLE: As openings occur, contingent on availability of funding.

TO APPLY: Applications are accepted via the UCSC Academic Recruit online system, and must include: a letter of application, curriculum vitae or resume, summary of background and experience in relevant fields of teaching, and three confidential letters of recommendation*. Applicants are invited to submit a statement addressing their contributions to diversity through their teaching. Documents/materials must be submitted as PDF files.
