UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA CRUZ
LEGAL STUDIES PROGRAM
On-Going Lecturer Pool

The Legal Studies Program at the University of California, Santa Cruz (UCSC) invites applications for the position of Lecturer. The Legal Studies Program is an interdisciplinary undergraduate major, administered by the Politics department, that seeks to integrate the study of law and legal issues through the contributions of such fields as Politics, Philosophy, Economics, Anthropology, Sociology, Psychology, Feminist Studies, and Environmental Studies. The area of specialization is open, although we are particularly interested in comparative and international law, human rights, legal theory, race and gender and the law, environment law, public law and institutions, and law and society. We look for candidates who can combine broader conceptual and theoretical concerns with specific legal problems.

The positions are available on a part-time basis for one or more quarters. Applicants should be prepared to teach undergraduate courses consistent with the Legal Studies curriculum. Regular appointments are during the academic year, but accepted candidates will also be eligible for Summer Session appointments.

The campus is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their teaching.
